

Pets can put on the Ritz with Lulu Jane's Poochie Polish, above, and Jamie Kreitman's tiny Tallulah Cupcake T-shirt, below.

LORDS AND LADIES OF DOG TOWN

WHAT THE WELL-DRESSED CANINE IS WEARING

By ABIGAIL LEICHMAN
STAFF WRITER

Whether your dog is uptown chic or country casual, diva or jock, there are whole wardrobes geared to the pooch's personal style — and your budget.

Of course, nobody really needs nail polish for a Pekingese or bathrobes for a boxer. But now that dogs are spending their days browsing the mall and mingling at canine summer camps and day-care centers, naturally you want Fido to look hip.

Besides, it's kind of fun to play dress-up with your pets — especially if you consider them part of the family.

"They're not pets; they're children to people like me," says Lydia Yoon, owner of the Fort Lee-based Internet business Cizl, which sells accessories for small dogs — er, babies. "I think most people who purchase these items feel the same way. And certain dogs actually enjoy being dressed in nice outfits and bling-bling."

Here are some luxuries — from the harmlessly goofy to the ridiculously ostentatious — for Rover and Princess:

Pet luxuries:

From Page F-1

for fashionable dogs out on a stroll.

Target's line includes a reflective hooded raincoat and an Isaac Mizrahi trench ($15). There's a wood-toggled duffel coat ($56) and "mink" hooded bunny coat ($99) at woofonline.com. Burberry's trench coat — in tan with the signature lining, of course — sells for $225 at Saks Fifth Avenue.

■ Tanks and T's with messages like "Top Dog" and "I'm a Bitch" go for $20 at ruffruffandmeow.com (add $2 for rhinestone embellishments).

Chenille pink cupcakes, bejeweled alligators and martini glasses adorn the tiny T's designed by Jamie Kreitman for "tea cup companions," $55 at daddys-money.net.

■ Taking the schnauzer to a wedding? Get a full bridal outfit

"spritz," are Jane's Hollytion. $9 at lu

■ Sneakers for dogs Target's red boots ($20), saddle shoes and trixieand Boots, a ca ($65), are footwear ice

■ Get a tiny jersey or race at poochwe shop.html.

■ Barrette pins and ha ourdog.com, $35. Midpric also are sold and trixieand can spend $7 Neiman Mar Browse th